"Playing With Lukas is the most unique book on training I have yet to see.

Author Karen Murdock heads one of her chapters with a quote by Helen Keller, an icon of spiritual strength, 'Although the world is full of suffering it is full also of the overcoming of it.' This is what this self-published book is really is about: how two beings who couldn't find their place in life, finally did through each other. It's a wonderful story of the triumph of the spirit."
